

Quite a few meetings have been held since our last newsletter. This is a quick recap of some of our recent events.

Our December meeting was our annual holiday party. We enjoyed a great buffet while we listened to holiday music provided by the Highlands Dulcimer Band.

Our January meeting was cancelled due to a COVID Omicron spike, and our planned speaker graciously agreed to reschedule for March.

In February, Rick Wright joined us to tell us about the life of Alexander Wilson, considered the “Father of American Ornithology”.

In March, Richard Polton spoke to us about the history and growth of Paterson NJ.

In April, Mac McParland told us about the rise of the Patent Medicine industry in the Victorian Era. As usual, he included a lot of humor along with his facts, including demonstrating a miracle “strength tonic” on Kevin Cooney!

Our May meeting was our Preservation Award meeting. Jane McNeil presented the award to Annabelle Radcliff-Trenner, for her work as an architect restoring Stuart Hall at Princeton Theological Seminary.
